

If you found this Geocache by accident

Great! You are welcome to join us! If you aren't interested in participating, please leave this Geocache exactly as you found it so that others may find it too.

If this Geocache is inappropriately located (i.e. on your property, in a dangerous location, etc.) please accept our apology. Contact us through geocaching.com and we will remove the Geocache, as well as remove it from our database. Simply removing the container will not remove the listing, and people will still come searching.

To learn more about Geocaching, please visit:
<http://www.geocaching.com>

Download this printable log at:
<http://yendoria.com/content/geocache-forms>

Congratulations! You've found my Geocache!

This "Geocache" is part of a world-wide game called Geocaching. The game basically involves people hiding "treasure" (this container and its contents), and publishing the GPS coordinates so that other people can go on a "treasure hunt" to find it.

Although most Geocachers bring their own trinkets to swap, the real treasure is the adventure and excitement of a modern-day treasure hunt. The rules of the hunt are:

- ◇ Do not move, remove, modify or vandalize the container, or any of the surrounding area.
- ◇ Date and sign the log to record your discovery.
- ◇ If you take something from the Geocache, leave something in return.
- ◇ If you take something "special", you agree to visit geocaching.com to find out what makes it special, and to follow any instructions regarding the trinket.

If you found this Geocache by accident

Great! You are welcome to join us! If you aren't interested in participating, please leave this Geocache exactly as you found it so that others may find it too.

If this Geocache is inappropriately located (i.e. on your property, in a dangerous location, etc.) please accept our apology. Contact us through geocaching.com and we will remove the Geocache, as well as remove it from our database. Simply removing the container will not remove the listing, and people will still come searching.

To learn more about Geocaching, please visit:
<http://www.geocaching.com>

Download this printable log at:
<http://yendoria.com/content/geocache-forms>

Congratulations! You've found my Geocache!

This "Geocache" is part of a world-wide game called Geocaching. The game basically involves people hiding "treasure" (this container and its contents), and publishing the GPS coordinates so that other people can go on a "treasure hunt" to find it.

Although most Geocachers bring their own trinkets to swap, the real treasure is the adventure and excitement of a modern-day treasure hunt. The rules of the hunt are:

- ◇ Do not move, remove, modify or vandalize the container, or any of the surrounding area.
- ◇ Date and sign the log to record your discovery.
- ◇ If you take something from the Geocache, leave something in return.
- ◇ If you take something "special", you agree to visit geocaching.com to find out what makes it special, and to follow any instructions regarding the trinket.